From the Parent Handbook:

Snow and Inclement Weather Policy

When faced with inclement weather, The New Century School will close for the day, open late, or close early, if the administration feels that the safety of the school's students and employees is at risk. Factors that will go into making this decision include closures of other area schools and reports of road conditions in Baltimore and surrounding counties where employees travel from. Another factor may be the ability to clear snow and ice from our sidewalk and parking lot.
